A note from Laura

Last week when I was in Indianapolis for a gathering of educators in the Episcopal Church a topic that came up over dinner one evening was the "technology gap" that separates, shall we say wisdom and youth in our culture and our church. PDA's, camera phones, iPods, myspace.com and text messaging are of the minute. The use and language of these modern necessities are in fact evolving at a rate so fast industry and certainly many adults cannot keep pace. Just this morning there was a piece on the TODAY show about aftermarket sales of iPod's the unskilled consumers like me can buy fully loaded with all the coolest songs, movies and videos. So where is the church in all of this? Many would say at best at the fringes, although I recently saw an add for a prayer book in hip hop and rap. It got me thinking – will the Bible ever be translated into text message? So this Sunday at EYC, our tweens and teens made a start, with of all things the ten commandments. Here it is for you to enjoy (if you need help, just consult and expert – anyone under 18!), spell check, have mercy.

1. Muttin abuv tha LRD yo! Make no pics of me yo, or mutten else. cuz dat wak
2. Yo, no gold cowz yo! Dat wak in da eyez of da LRD! Duh!
3. UR not 2 tk tha LRDS nm n vain.
4. Keep Sun hly gangsta.
5. B nice 2 ur ma & pa.
6. Don't b no killa.
7. don't cheat on ne1.
8. no takey yo dude.
9. don't ly bout things.
10. yo dude no envy.

Carrollton Presbyterian Church Soup Luncheon

The Women of the Carrollton Presbyterian Church will have their annual soup luncheon in Westminster Hall of the Carrollton Presbyterian Church on Tuesday, February 7, 2006. Lunch will be served from 11:30 until 1:00 pm.

The Women of the Carrollton Presbyterian Church would like to take this opportunity to help the Carroll County Women Shelter. Included below is a list of items for which the shelter has a continuing need. If you would like to help, please bring something from the list to the luncheon. This is purely voluntary—you are invited to lunch either way.

SHELTER NEEDS: Toilet tissue, cleaning supplies, paper towels, baby supplies and baby food.
