

St Margaret's Notebook

May 31, 2007

From the rector:

“Reflections on the way to Nashville”

It must have been a gorgeous view - back in the day - overlooking the mountains, the valleys
the change of season, the flight of birds.

The view stretched on for miles and miles.

Many a grandma must have been planted under those huge oak trees.

Many a prayer of hope must have been spoken there
as loved ones were returned to the earth.

“Ashes to ashes, dust to dust.”

“In sure and certain hope of the resurrection.”

Today it is a long-forgotten cemetery

a mere island sandwiched between Interstate 65 and a “Love’s” truck stop.

I scan the scene for a clapboard church... for a steeple for any semblance of a community gathered.

I find no evidence of a church... only trees and headstones.

But wait. There is a car parked at the far corner of the cemetery.

A woman climbs out clutching a flower.

In her, I imagine a steeple.

Through her, the church lives on.
